

Colorado Youth Sports Organization

A non-profit, 501 (C) (3) charitable organization

The goal of Colorado Youth Sports Organization (CY) is to help develop national and international athletes, coaches, and judges in Colorado Springs and the surrounding region. Primarily through fundraising, CY sponsors competitions and training clinics, and it also helps offset travel expenses to national and international events for athletes and coaches. Over the past 15 years, our nation has seen Colorado Springs rise to prominence in Trampoline and Power Tumbling gymnastics. With over 30 national champions and several international medalists, CY has become the driving force in procuring the necessary funds that allow athletes from Colorado Springs to represent our city all over the globe.

CY's future goals are to facilitate an annual national/international competition bringing millions of dollars into our local economy. CY also plans to organize international sports exchanges that will build friendly ties all over the world.

CY's ability to accomplish its goals is only limited by the donations it receives. Any size donation is welcome. However, CY has secured an agreement with Trampoline World, the world's largest trampoline gymnastics center, to display banners for donating sponsors who are seeking additional advertising exposure. Over one thousand people pass through Trampoline World weekly. They are typically young, fitness-oriented, upwardly mobile individuals with disposable income. This positive environment is quite conducive for marketing opportunities. Parents have a lot of time to look around Trampoline World and take in this unique facility. They also notice its community involvement. That community involvement is beautifully represented by the sponsor banners we display at Trampoline World. These banners are a great way for a business to show it cares and be noticed at the same time. Friends, family, and anyone who wants to show their appreciation or honor our young athletes may become a sponsor.

Please feel free to ask any questions you may have about CY and its program of sponsor banners by contacting us.
